Paul Gill is appointed Managing Director of JFMG Limited with effect from 1 November 2005 following the decision of Ron Little to leave the company. Paul is currently Technology Director of the company, and was previously with the BBC.

JFMG Chairman Mike Snalam said "I am extremely pleased that Paul has accepted this key role in the company. He brings with him unparalleled knowledge and experience of the business, having been with the company since its inception as well as having been actively involved in frequency management for programme making and special events in previous organisations".

Paul Gill said "With its unique expertise and tools, JFMG is ideally positioned to support spectrum users and owners as market methods of spectrum management are introduced. In parallel, there is also the unprecedented challenge of numerous changes in spectrum allocations resulting from projects such as digital TV switchover. I am therefore delighted to have the opportunity to lead the team into such an exciting new era".
